New Catalogues Show Number of Students at Eastern Universities

Harvard and Princeton have large Attendance

Harvard's catalogue, recently issued, shows the University to have a population of 6718. This includes all those connected with Harvard in any way, as well as the pupils in the Summer School last season and Radcliffe College. In Harvard University there are 4,328 students. Of these 2,073 are in the College, 548 in the Lawrence Scientific School, 402 in the Graduate School, 52 in the Divinity School, 738 in the Law School, 383 in the Medical School, 115 in the Dental School, and 32 in the Bussey Institute.

The catalogue statistics show that there is a gain of 451 in the figures covering all persons connected with Harvard in any way. This gain is accounted for by the big increase in the Summer School, due largely to the meeting of the National Education Association in Boston. In the College and Scientific School there is a loss of 72 and in the Graduate School a gain of 86. The Law School gained 98. The Medical School shows a loss of 62, which is probably caused by the increased requirements. Only those who hold the B. A. degree or its equivalent are now admitted to the School.

In the requirements for admission to the College two important changes have been made. Elementary Latin will be compulsory in 1906 and thereafter, while comers from other colleges will be treated on the merits of their cases after a residence of one year at the University. The old rule read to the effect that any student having completed two years at another reputable college was entitled to one year's standing at Harvard.

The catalogue shows that Harvard has in its various libraries 639,700 volumes, exclusive of 280,000 pamphlets in Gore Hall and a number of pamphlets in the department libraries.

The new catalogue of Princeton University, which has just been published, shows a total registration of 1,431 students for the year 1903-04 as compared with 1,383 last year. This is a gain of 48. As is the case at Yale there is a marked increase in the number of Scientific students. The enrollment of the Green School of Science exceeds by 91 the enrollment of last year. In the Academic Department there is a decrease of 33—721 students this year against 754 last year—most of which is in the Junior and Sophomore classes. There are 380 Freshmen, 108 specials, and 114 graduate students. The number of Faculty members and instructors is 109.

TRACK MEN BEGIN TRAINING

Opening of Winter Quarter finds squad depleted by Conditions and Flunks
—Base Ball candidates begin work tomorrow

The opening of the track season of 1904 finds the varsity squad in rather a deplorable shape. The final examinations last quarter worked havoc in the ranks. At least five star men and as many more who have not yet been tried in college athletics have fallen under the ban. Several of the men, by the aid of special examinations, will be able to get off their conditions, but several more have flunked out and cannot be eligible until the course is repeated and full credit received.

The absence of Coach Stagg and the failure of several of the men to pass their courses, makes the track situation somewhat of a crisis. Captain Blair is disgusted concerning the failure of so many of the athletes to pass their courses. He says that it is now up to every man eligible for the track team to take upon himself some of the responsibility which usually rests upon the shoulders of Coach Stagg. If this is done Captain Blair thinks that perhaps Chicago will be able to make a creditable showing in the early meets.

The opening of the training quarters in Hitchcock yesterday showed the following names on the register, Robert Maxwell, Clyde Blair, Mort Cahill, Rice, Fred Speik, Mark Catlin and Fred Hall. Captain Blair said as soon as the other men arranged their courses and fixed up their back work he would order more men into quarters. Because most of the men were busy yesterday afternoon attending to the matters incident to the opening of school, the formal commencement of the indoor track season was postponed until today. Capt. Blair, who will have charge of this branch of athletics during the absence of Coach Stagg, was out this afternoon, and is anxious to have all the old men and new candidates for track honors, to report at least not later than Thursday in the gymnasium and commence training. He will make out a rubbing list as soon as possible. The matter of lockers will also be attended to.

The opening of the indoor practice for the base ball team begins tomorrow afternoon. The number of candidates is promising and the material is good. The base ball men have done better than the track men, in the matter of passing their courses satisfactorily, and only one man is below. He is expected to have his conditions off by the middle of the winter.

Captain Howe is desirous that all men who can play base ball try for the team. Coach Harper also wants a big squad. Captain Howe and Coach Harper will drill the men hard to get them in good shape for the spring games.

SOME MISTAKES CORRECTED

Health department denies statements of medical journal concerning conditions here at University.

The following statements published in the Dec. 5th issue of a prominent Eastern medical journal, have caused no little concern and anxious inquiry from the families and others interested:

"President Harper of the University of Chicago has warned the students against a typhoid-fever epidemic at the University. Several cases of fever have developed in the last few days, and the authorities, fearing an epidemic, have made strenuous efforts to stamp out the disease before it gets a firmer hold among the students. At a special meeting of all the students recently held Dr. Harper personally asked university men and women to do all in their power to help the authorities in their efforts to rid the university of the disease and prevent the classes having to be broken up and the students sent to their homes. The students were asked to leave boarding-houses where the water was not boiled and to take all other precautions."

Dr. Arthur R. Reynolds, commissioner of health for Chicago, in a bulletin of the health department, says, concerning the above statements:

"On investigation by the Department it is found that the sole foundation for these alarming statements is that the usual advice, given to students as to their health at the beginning of each semester, was recently emphasized by reference to the typhoid outbreaks at Ithaca, Butler and elsewhere in the East. A circular letter was sent as usual to the students' boarding-houses, urging the necessity of a pure water supply, and students at 'chapel' were advised to see that this request be complied with.

"There has been no 'special meeting'; 'several cases of fever' have not developed at the University; there is no 'fearing an epidemic', and, as matter of fact, the general health of the University is exceptionally good. Among the more than 2000 students in attendance one single individual arrived from his home suffering with 'walking typhoid' at the beginning of the quarter. The case was promptly recognized, proper treatment and care of the case were at once instituted, and this young gentleman has entirely recovered without any other case having developed.

"The action of the University authorities in safeguarding the health of the students is in every way commendable, and it is regrettable that their wise forethought and counsel should be made the basis of sensational misstatements."

Text books may be rented at the Alumnae Loan Library, Haskell Basement for twenty-five cents a quarter.

BOWLING IN REYNOLDS

Student Club Officials Close Contract With Brunswick, Balk Collender Company

Four Regulation Alleys are Expected to be Installed in the Club House in Three Weeks

Bowling alleys are to be added to the attractive features of the Reynolds Club immediately. The executive council of the club has been at work during the holidays considering bids for the installation of alleys, with the result that today President Sloan expects to sign a contract with the Brunswick Balk, Collender Company. The contract provides for four regulation alleys of the latest type. They will be placed in the basement of the club and are to be ready in three weeks. The cost is $1,550.

The money for the purchase of the alleys has been in part taken from the treasury of the club, a friend of the University advancing the remainder. The officers of the club are confident that bowling will be an additional attraction to membership. The popularity of the billiard and pool tables has been pronounced.

VARISITY DEBATERS DETERMINED

First Practice of Week Today—Northwestern's Side Will be Well Taken

The varisity debating team today begins a hard week's work in preparation for Northwestern. This afternoon the first practice debate of the week will be held. The Northwestern side of the question will be defended by Lewinsohn, Bretz, and Ralph Merriam. Several members of the faculty are expected to be on hand to criticise the work of the team.

C C North, who has been confined to his room since last Wednesday and threatened with pneumonia, was somewhat better last night, and is expected to be out by the first of the week. A. N. Merritt, the alternate, is working on North's part of the argument, and will fill his place in case the latter is unable to take part in the final debate.

COUNCILS ORGANIZE FOR QUARTER

Blair Re-elected Chairman of Seniors—Norton Will Preside Over Juniors

At a meeting of the Senior College Council yesterday last quarter's officers were elected, Clyde Blair to the office of chairman and Miss Winifred Reid to that of secretary.

The Junior College Council in session yesterday chose Strong V. Norton chairman and Howard S. Willett secretary. Norton is in his third year of residence. He is a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity and of the order of the Iron Mask, and is on the editorial boards of the 1904 Cap and Gown and The Monthly Maroon. Willett is well known for his work on the dramatic club. He is a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Track and baseball men will get down to work in gymnasium.

EDITORIALS

Owing to delays incident to changing the place of publication from the University to the Quadrangle Press, THE DAILY MAROON was not out in time for distribution last evening. The editors and business managers are making every effort to improve the service of the paper and expect to have it in the hands of subscribers living in the vicinity of the University by the dinner hour. Notice of any failure either in the carrier or mail service of the paper, should be sent to this office at once. THE DAILY MAROON's phone number is Hyde Park 426, -45 on the University exchange. The office of the paper is in Ellis Hall, just across the street from Cobb. Letters addressed to the business manager in the Faculty Exchange will reach him.

The executive editors of THE DAILY MAROON have not received all of the strings of the candidates for the staff of the paper during the Autumn quarter and an announcement of the successful competitors cannot be made today.

GARGOYLETTES

WHY WE WERE LATE

Yesterday's Maroon was just one day late. (This is news to the subscribers of course). Its lateness was caused by the humorous story by ATOMS, the author. While the paper was passing through the press, the feeder suddenly caught sight of the tale of the WAG and fell into a fit of laughter with the sad result that the machine was put temporarily out of business. The accident raised the devil, (Note: The "devil" was asleep on the press at the time).

Henceforth contributors to the gargoylettes column must be careful not to make their jokes too side-splittingly funny. Its dangerous. If we had had two stories yesterday like the WAG, the chances are that the DAILY MAROON would never have appeared again.

Yes! We registered * again today. Did you?

Majors and Minors

The members of the Dramatic Club who remained at Foster Hall during the holidays gave a chafing dish Party last week. Those present were Misses Sutton, Finch, Redlich, Brownell, Harris, and Messrs. Butterworth, Hinckley, De Wolf and Davis.

A week from next Friday night the residents of Snell Hall will give a vaudeville performance in their club room. The program has not yet been completed, but Merriam says it's going to be a "cracker-jack". The affair will be exclusively for residents of the hall.

Professors Nathaniel Butler and Benjamin Terry addressed the Iowa State Teachers Association during the annual meeting of the organization in Des Moines during Christmas week. Professor Butler's theme was "Some Present Day Ideals of Education". Dr. Terry spoke on "The Christian Element in Civilization". Both addresses were enthusiastically received by the teachers

Winter track work will commence this afternoon in the new gymnasium under the direction of Captain Blair, who will have charge of this branch of athletics during the absence of Director Stagg. comparatively little work was done during the past vacation, but all the old men and new candidates are expected to report this afternoon ready for training.

The conditions and "flunk" notices have not yet been sent out and will not be distributed till tomorrow. When seen this morning, Captain Blair said that the present outlook was worse than ever before in the history of the University, and that as near as he could figure, about ten men were likely to come under the ban of the deans.

Senior and Junior College Divisions assemble at 12 o'clock today and elect councillors and alternates.

Winter training begins today.

The Glee and Mandolin Clubs will give a concert next Friday evening at the First Baptist Church, Englewood. Everyone who would like to hear the improved organizations is urged to be present.

George E. Howard, Ph. D., Professional Lecturer in History will give the first of a series of twelve Monday evening lectures on "The Rise and Progress of the French Revolution", on next Monday, January 11, in the South Congregational Church, Drexel Boulevard and 40th Street.

The members of Snell House are planning to hold a vaudeville performance of home talent on Friday evening, Jan. 15, in the club rooms of the hall.

Ralph Rollins of Amherst visited the University yesterday. Rollins holds the New England record for the shot put, having put the weight over forty-three feet.

The Memorial Service

The committee of faculty members and students, appointed by the President to arrange the details of the service in memory of university students, who lost their lives in the Iroquois fire, will meet today. The services will probably be held this week in Mandel Hall.

New York sends 266 men, Illinois 67 and Connecticut 23. Missouri, Wisconsin and Michigan show a falling off in numbers of men who are sent to Princeton, which may, perhaps, be the result of the strengthening and broadening of the home universities. Of foreigners, there are 6 from the British Island, 1 from Turkey, 2 from Japan, 1 from China, and 4 from Canada.

ceived a set back for an indefinite time. This new delay is the result of a leak in the tank. About the middle of last quarter, the tank was found to be leaking badly around the top, and in consequence, the tiling for about three feet from the top was taken out, the under part was rewaterproofed, and the tiling reset. In spite of this, the large basin is still defective, and to repair it, a new delay of about two or three weeks will be necessary.

No schedules for either the polo or the basket ball teams has yet been made out. In reference to this matter, Dr. Raycroft said yesterday:

"Although we have had several letters from other teams asking for contests, and we could have had a schedule already made out, it is our plan not take any definite steps in this regard till we get some line on the ability of the teams that we are going to have to represent the University."

The President's annual football dinner to the men on the team, which was postponed from Dec 16 because of Mr. Stagg's illness, will be given about the twenty-fifth of this month. By that time it is expected that Mr. Stagg will have returned in good health, and able to again take up his work in the athletic department. As the captain for next year's team will be elected at this dinner, the football men are anxiously awaiting it.

DEATH OF MISS ANNICE E. BUTTS

Prominent Educator and Principal of the Kenwood Institute Passed Away Friday

The funeral services over the body of Miss Annice E. Bradford Butts, principal of Kenwood Institute, who died on Friday, December 31, were held at the Institute on Sunday morning at nine o'clock. Burial was at Joliet, where Miss Butts formerly lived.

Miss Butts has been identified with educational work for many years, having been closely connected with several leading western preparatory schools. In 1886 she associated herself with the Kenwood Institute and two years later became its principal. The school is affiliated with the University and sends many of its graduates to Chicago.

A memorial service will be held at the Institute, 40 East Forty-seventh Street, Wednesday morning, January 6, at 9:30. All friends and former pupils are invited to attend.

University Preachers

The University preachers for the current quarter have been announced. On January 10 and 17, President King, Oberlin College will officiate; on January 24 and 31, and on February 7, the Rev. Philip Moxon, D. D., Springfield, Mass.; and on February 14 and 21, President Frances of Brown University
